A health and safety management system provides a structured and systematic approach to successfully manage a range of issues in any business. Whilst it is good practice to have such a system, it is also a proven method of managing health and safety risks in the working environment.

Grencap's team of highly-experienced management consultants work with a broad range of organisations to successfully implement management responses to their environment, health and safety and property risks. Considerable emphasis is placed on integrating environmental, health and safety and property risk management systems within existing business processes.

Grencap services include:

- Strategy, Governance & Risk Management Frameworks
- Management System Design Implementation & Review
- Compliance Assessments
- Workplace Physical and Psychological Risk Assessment
- Chain of Responsibility
- Safety Culture & Leadership Programs
- Incident Investigations
- Business Risk Management

Strategy, Governance & Risk Management Frameworks

Grencap delivers practical and proven risk management solutions that assist clients and organisations in improving their health and safety management and performance. A cornerstone of this offering is the capability and expertise specific to evaluating, designing and implementing governance and risk management solutions and frameworks to drive organisational change and improved business outcomes.

The experienced team of WHS consultants at Grencap have worked across a broad range of industries and organisations, many which have undertaken executive level safety roles themselves.

The team of highly experienced Greencap consultants use proven assessment models and techniques to design the most appropriate health and safety risk identification, assessment and control strategies for our clients.

Greencap delivers strategic services specific to governance and risk management with a tailored approach, practical experience and extensive knowledge of WHS legislation and best practice international standards such as ISO 31000:2009 – Risk Management Principles and Guidelines.

Whether your business has been operating for many years, is new or wanting a renewed level of focus and commitment, Greencap's expert team are available to partner with you in a range of strategic and WHS assurance service delivery offerings.

At Greencap, considerable emphasis is placed on integrating environmental, health and safety and property risk management systems within business processes.

Compliance Assessments

Risk assessment is a fundamental component of health and safety legislation and provides the foundation for establishing a systematic approach to managing health and safety. It is also sound business practice.

Greencap's highly experienced consultants use proven assessment models and techniques to design the most appropriate health and safety risk identification, assessment and control strategies for clients. Recommendations from Greencap's compliance assessments focus on achieving practical and operationally-relevant outcomes.

Greencap services include:

- Compliance and due diligence
- Workplace risk assessment
- Risk control programs
- Web-based compliance management solutions – Greencap Asset Management System

Contractor Safety Management

The practical management of contractor safety can be complex as using contractors does not remove your obligations to ensure the work is performed in a safe manner. Greencap provides a range of services to assist organisations to demonstrate due diligence and effectively manage contractor safety.

Greencap services include:

- Review of procedures and practices
- Development of systems
- Training programs
- Contractor induction programs
- Onsite contractor verification audits and reviews
- Supply chain and procurement management
